FLOWERS

I love these little flowers, all swaying in the breeze
I love their defined colors, I love the way they please
Some are planted in hot deserts, some in beautiful gardens
When you sit on them oh! how I'll bet they scream "ouch! I beg your pardon."

Oh! The flowers full of all sorts of different shades and hues
On Valentine's you give one to me and I'll give one too
Flowers are so very great, I simply can't explain
I love the smell that they give off directly after the rain.

Some flowers will seem very dull & boring
It's better to look at than your dad snoring
In the morning it carries some dew
With that bit of gloss it looks like new

Roses are a symbol of true romance and love
They were sent down by angels from up above
Flowers could be a mascot or symbol
It could be a picture or a tiny thimble

These flowers are awesome, so as you can see
The only place they can't live is in the sea
So always remember when playing with flowers
Play with the right ones and you'll gain super powers.
